Book Circulation	18878
Magazine Circulation	1700
Total Book and Magazine Circulation	20578

There is an increase in both the book and magazine circulation, particularly noticeable in the magazine department, due in a large measure to work along that line at the Academy.

There was no Library District Meeting held this year. Book Week was observed by the display of the Poster "New Books—New Worlds", and a set of books entitled "Citizenship Series" for young people was on display. These books are now in circulation. I had the privilege of attending on one day the sessions of the Book Fair held at the Boston Public Library.

The following periodicals are in the Library: American Magazine, American Boy, American Girl, American Legion Magazine, Atlantic Monthly, Baseball, Bird Lore, Child Life, Children's Activities, Christian Century, Commentator, Consumers' Union, Current History, Exeter News Letter, Flower Grower, Ford News, Fortune, Forum, Good Housekeeping, Hampton Union, Harpers, House and Garden, Hygeia, Jack and Jill, Ladies Home Journal, Life, Mercury, Nation, National Geographic, News Week, Parents Magazine, Pictorial Review, Popular Mechanics, Popular Science, Readers Digest, Roscirusian, Rural New Yorker, Saint Nicholas, Saturday Evening Post, Scientific American, Scribners, Telephone Topics, Time, Union Signal, Wall Street, Watchman, Woman's Home Companion, World Horizons, Yankee, and Yankee Pilot.

Jack and Jill is a new publication especially interesting and delightful for children: The Yankee comes to us in place of the magazine Leisure, publication of which has been discontinued.

Ford News, American Legion Magazine, Roscirusian, Telephone Topics, Watchman, and Yankee Pilot are gift subscriptions, for which we thank the donors.

We express appreciation also for two copies of the Hampton Tercentenary Pageant by Mrs. Eloise Lane Smith, several copies of the Official Pictorial Magazine sent in by Mr. Greenman, and a copy of Everyday Poems donated by the author "Bill" Elliot.

REPORT OF SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS

To the School Board of Hampton, N. H.:

I have the honor of presenting to you herewith, my annual report as Superintendent of your schools. This report covers the statistics for the school year from July 1, 1937 to June 30, 1938—the last completed school year. Some mention will also be made of the first half of the current year.

The school year began on September 7, 1938 with an enrollment of 378 pupils. This is a gain of eight pupils over the enrollment of September 1937 and reflects the customary gradual increase of recent years. Of this total of 378 pupils 86 are in Hampton Academy and 292 in the Centre School. The September registration in the first six grades is 198. The fact that we now have a teacher for each grade has helped greatly in keeping to a high standard the level of work done. The teacher load now averages 33 instead of the former 36. The percent of attendance maintains its level at 95%. This is Hampton's usual figure. Since we have each year a period when many pupils are compelled to be absent because of illness, this percentage is very satisfactory. This number of pupils on the attendance honor roll increased from 26 of last year to 39 this year. These two facts indicate a healthy attitude on the part of our children.

The Teaching Staff

Hampton Academy now employs five teachers and the Hampton School District thirteen. These figures include a teacher of music and a teacher of art. This staff is composed of teachers of successful experience. Each holds a certificate of highest rating from the State Board of Education and, where previously employed in other districts, a recommendation for successful work in those towns. Hampton is a good town educationally. For this reason we are enabled to secure good teachers. That we have done so is shown by the following chart:

THE TEACHERS

Name	Position	Graduated	Cert., Sal., Yrs. Exp.
Hazen, Edward H.	Prin. Jr. High	Dartmouth	Cert. $2200. 9
Eastman, Clifford	Hist.-El. Bus. Tr.	New Hamp U.	Cert. 1500. 10

Bartlett, Elsie	Grade VI	9 Sum. Ses., N. S.	Cert. 1300. 25
Whitney, Pauline	Grade V	Plymouth Normal	Cert. 1300. 14
Perkins, Ada	Grade IV	Keene Normal	Cert. 1050 3
Norton, Thelma	Grade III	Plymouth Normal	Cert. 1300. 11
Philbrick, Evelyn	Grade II	Ports. Training S.	Cert. 1300. 12
Marston, Adeline	Grade I	Newbury't Tr. S.	Cert. 1300. 28
Newton, Janice	Drawing	Boston Art S.	Cert. 300. 2

The chief task of the first three grades, is the teaching of the young child the mechanics of reading—reading for thought, reading for enjoyment and reading to obtain information. The success of your schools in this work is commented upon highly by school people beyond our own town. It seems to be a strong point of our schools. The three teachers responsible for this are Miss Marston, Miss Philbrick and Miss Norton. Occasionally, pupils may gain knowledge of the mechanics of reading in the early grades but do not gain in their later years because of failure to use the acquired skill. This, the three middle grade teachers are guarding against. Through parallel readings, through dramatizations, through time allotted to silent and informal readings, Miss Perkins, Miss Whitney and Miss Bartlett continue to increase the skill of our pupils.

Our fifth grade, under the leadership of Miss Whitney, is devoting some time to choral reading. This can be done after reading as a skill has been developed to a certain degree. Choral reading is done in unison and thus helps the poor and slow reader. It is a method of giving additional meaning to the lines read and thereby imparting greater pleasure to the pupils. It is a comparatively new branch of reading, although its foundation principles have long been recognized. The parents will be interested in visiting these classes.

The fundamentals of our work are being rated by two standardized tests. The Metropolitan Achievement tests, compiled by a committee of five of the leading educators from the major systems of the East, form a mechanical basis for grading the work of our pupils and our school. The Otis Classification test helps us determine the actual ability of the pupil in school subjects. These two, the one supplementing the other, assist in guiding our children's progress through the different grades.

The Junior High School

Hampton Junior High School now includes grades seven, eight and nine, with an enrollment of 94. This year you decided to employ Stuart Carter formerly of the Hopkinton High School staff as a third man teacher. It seems a wise decision. The organization, morale and control of the school is by so much the better.

Mr. Eastman has accomplished his usual outstanding results with his athletic teams. The training our boys receive has helped them materially in their later endeavors. With the building of the new high school and the anticipated removal of the ninth grade, a problem will arise. For this difficulty, Principal Hazen makes the following report.

"Looking toward the future, I would recommend that our junior high school athletic system be closely scrutinized, with the idea in mind of providing a program in which every pupil would participate rather than the small percentage which we now have participating. Leaders in the field of physical education generally agree that contact football has no place in the junior high school athletic program. Intra-mural participation is largely recommended in other sports rather than entirely inter-school competition."

A system of credits for outdoor activities similar to that now established at Hampton Academy might be seriously considered by the board. By this plan credits are obtained for individual activity such as swimming, walking, bicycling as well as for inter-group games. Such exercise should be adopted to the needs of the individual pupil and should be based upon the examination by the school nurse. In an elementary way, the activity might be made of a corrective nature.

The teachers of the school appreciate the small motion picture machine which now replaces the outmoded machine of former years. It is being used as a teaching device in the classes rather than a means of entertainment. Mr. Hazen has said in a report: "The number of worthwhile films available for payment of transportation and a small service charge is large. It has been shown in tests made at this school, and at others, that many pupils, particularly poor readers, learn more readily by seeing something pictured than by reading."

The Junior High School is raising the standard of scholarship from, at least, two points of attack. As the pupil comes into contact with the Concrete Geometry and the Concrete Algebra of the seventh and eighth grades opportunity for drill in Arithmetic fundamentals lessens. We believe that this should be balanced by intensive drill in the simple processes on Arithmetic. For this reason

Mis Whytock is now devoting a period each week, as long as can be profitably done, to such drill. Through this work we plan to keep alive the Arithmetic of the lower grades and strengthen the ability of application to the Mathematics of the Junior High School.

The second line of improvement is the strengthening of the work in English by increasing the motivating force. The best of the pupils' work is now published in the newly established school paper. It is an honor to have a composition, a report or a story printed in the magazine. This paper is edited and published by the pupils themselves. The editorial and business staff is complete. In addition to its value as an English project it furnishes to the children training in real life situations. The enterprise is under the sponsorship of Mr. Carter. It is a valuable addition to our school activities.

The Music Department

The standard of achievement in the music department of the Hampton Schools is favorably known throughout the state. For its excellence Mrs. Esther Coombs is responsible. She understands Music and she understands children. Nothing but success can be the result of these two.

There follow excerpts from her report to the school board:

"In the primary grades the pupils are learning the principles of tune and time in a number of ways. Besides the regular rote singing we are including action songs of a new type—combining rhythmic motion with melody. Grade two contributed a performance of their rhythm band to an assembly program during the Fall. They were in uniform and were truly thrilled both in anticipation and performance. We are fortunate in having teachers in our primary grades devoted to the motto 'Every child for music and music for every child'. Monotones, both complete and partial are being taught to sing in tune.

Music Appreciation in the grades was started last year about the first of January, and continued during the rest of the year. I am starting it again this year. All pupils enjoy it very much. The classes in Appreciation in the High School are larger than for several years. We are forming habits of lasting value in these classes. During the Fall twenty-three pupils attended the opera in Boston accompanied by kind and interested parents and teachers, to whom much thanks is due.

The Academy chorus is doing good work of the same type as in former years. The music at graduation brought many gratifying comments.

The orchestra is very good. It needs more opportunity to advertise itself. The public performances of the past year are as follows: at Nashua at the All-State Festival, at the P. T. A., at graduation, and at the Legion Armistice program. The band is small but has been doing good work. During the Fall it made two public appearances—at the Republican Rally and the football game with Kennebunk. Elizabeth Tobey, Edward Tobey, Mildred Perkins and Robert Parr were members of the All New England Band this year. Gertrude Woodburn was a member of the All New England Orchestra and Arthur Waldron of the Chorus. This conclave was held in New London, Connecticut".

The Health Department

The health of our school children is guarded continually by our school nurse, Miss Frances Smith. During the few months she has been with us she has won the complete confidence of the school officials. She has carefully examined or assisted at the physical examination of every school child. She has faithfully visited all homes where her assistance might be needed. That she also has the confidence of the different organizations of the town is evidenced by their splendid cooperation with her in her school work. Her report to the schools follows:

NURSE'S REPORT

The following is the report of the health work done in the Centre School from September 7, 1938 to January 27, 1939, and is hereby respectfully submitted.

The School Physician, Dr. Bryer, conducted as usual, the physical examinations of the first and fourth grades, and the members of the football team. The yearly examinations of the pupils of all grades have been completed, and parents have been notified of defects found. Homes have been visited in order to cooperate with parents in correcting defects. The school was unfortunate in having an epidemic of whooping cough during the fall and early winter months. There were 47 cases in all. With this exception, the health of the school children has been excellent.

Results of physical examinations are as follows:

No. of children examined by school physician		73
No. of children examined by school nurse		214
Defects Found		Under Treatment	Corrections Made
Teeth	83	12	8
Enlarged Tonsils	84	0	0

Under treatment	2
No. of sick children taken home	16
No. of injured children taken to doctor	3
No. of visits to nurse for treatment	473

I wish to acknowledge gifts from the Parent-Teacher Association; first, for the fund of money which is furnishing cod liver oil for children of school age; and second, for a great many articles of clothing which have been given away and greatly appreciated.

Many thanks are offered to our teachers, principal and superintendent for their kindness and cooperation.

Respectfully submitted,

FRANCES V. SMITH, R. N.,

School Nurse.

Hampton Academy and High School

With a Fall enrollment of 86, in an inadequate building, the teaching staff is faithfully preparing our children for the work of advanced schools. The lack of modern facilities makes this a particularly arduous task for the teachers and pupils alike. Because equipment for the domestic arts work is almost entirely lacking, the school board has offered the use of the Centre School equipment for the Academy girls. This has helped.

In line with modern educational thought, a course in Sociology is now offered in the Academy. This work is in charge of Mr. Sulloway and will, we believe, prove a valuable and popular course. With the anticipated new high school building we hope to introduce a course in Biology. This subject has been considered for some time. It is of especial value to girls planning to enter the profession of nursing and to boys planning a scientific or medical career. It requires a good laboratory if pupils are to secure a real usable knowledge of the subject. Such a laboratory can be installed in a new plant.

The music work in the school is outstanding. This is reported herein under the music department heading.

The morale of the student body is at a high level. The school is regarded as a student community for the welfare of which each one is responsible. There are no difficulties of organization or citizenship in the school.

In athletics the school has attained a high degree of success. The football team of last Fall was tendered a banquet by the Community Club in recognition of its work. At this meeting letters and sweaters were awarded the players. The sweaters were a much appreciated gift of the local post of the American Legion. Such interest in our young people and their activities by the men of the town can only be for the good of the boys and girls, the future citizens of Hampton.

This year a physical examination was given each student at the Academy. This was conducted by the local doctors and the school nurse. We believe this is a valuable service to our young people and should be continued.

The Parent-Teacher Association

Hampton has an active and cooperative Parent-Teacher Association. Its officers and members form a group which, through direct contact of parent and teacher reach a common ground of mutual helpfulness. Where a school has such a backing of influential citizens that school will give valuable service to its pupils. Because of the interest, the help and support of this organization, the schools of Hampton are better schools.

It is common to hear complaints against the type of moving picture shown the children today. In talking with the managers of the various picture theatres in neighboring towns, it seemed that they also were troubled by the fact that children seem to prefer the more exciting and less elevating type of showing. Since moving pictures are a real force in American life, it seems that the schools can render a real service by guiding pupils to the good pictures and helping them to understand and enjoy them. Arrangements were made with the managers of the theatres whereby they notify the superintendent when pictures of real worth are to be presented. With the notification usually comes a pamphlet giving the story in brief, the life of the author or allied historical data. This notice, together with the little booklet, is given to the teachers of the pupils of suitable age. The book from which the picture is made is on occasion the subject of study. Such a service was rendered by the manager of the theatre in Exeter when "The Adventures of Huckleberry Finn" was presented there. This is a move toward worthwhile cooperation in solving a difficult problem.

The service heretofore given our children in a dental clinic was not available to them this year. Parents have expressed a desire that this activity be returned to the school program. Since no child is required or even urged to visit any particular dentist, a clinic seems a worthwhile undertaking. It results in a saving of time and expense and guards against a mere "wait until tomorrow" attitude.

There never was a time when children, smaller or larger, faced greater safety hazards than they do today. The age of machinery forces even the young child to meet the problem of safety before he has time to comprehend it. At the earliest ages it is important that the child be taught how to avoid dangers—dangers in the home, at play and especially on the highway. The time has come when we especially who live along the Lafayette Highway must make safety teaching a regularly scheduled subject of our curriculum. Little work books and primers are now being developed. We believe it possible to develop in even the primary child habits of safety consciousness throughout his life. I recommend that, as soon as available, texts in safety be adopted as regular readers in our schools. Work of this kind has been done informally by the teachers of the nation during the past years and this in great part responsible for the fact that deaths among children are decreasing in number. A regularly organized course would produce greater results.

I wish again to express my thanks to the school board of Hampton for their kindly help in the work of the office. The principals and teachers have without exception been faithful and cooperative in their work. Because of their service to the pupils under their care the schools of Hampton are known as successful schools.

Respectfully submitted,

ROY W. GILLMORE,
Superintendent of Schools.
